Who we are and what we do

Tutor.com offers one-to-one learning solutions for students through educational institutions such as colleges, universities, K-12 schools, and public and state libraries as well as through corporations for employee benefits and workforce development. We connect learners with qualified, expert tutors online, on-demand, 24/7/361. We provide tutoring services in more than 200 academic subjects and test preparation areas in an engaging and uplifting learning environment.

Our core philosophy is that when a learner needs help, the best way to get it is right away from an experienced expert. Our experts are online 24/7, ready to help. Our mission is to help every learner first realize and then reach their full potential. The results: more than 18 million one-to-one sessions served. 97% of the students, teachers, and professionals who use Tutor.com’s services would recommend us to a friend, while 98% of our post-session survey respondents are glad their institution offers Tutor.com.

Our story

In 1998, a small group of passionate education and tech professionals had a terrific URL and a big idea—use the Internet to connect students to tutors for tutoring at anytime from anywhere. So, they recruited about a hundred tutors and created one of the first online, interactive classrooms.

In 2000, Tutor.com, Inc. was incorporated and began partnering with public libraries to ensure students of all socioeconomic backgrounds had access to highly effective one-to-one tutoring and homework help, day or night, from any Internet-enabled device. Shortly after, we began working with colleges, universities and K-12 schools.

In 2014, Tutor.com acquired The Princeton Review®, a world leader in test preparation, and added The Princeton Review test preparation services to its online tutoring platform. In addition, we also launched our Shared Staffing Classroom to provide schools with an intuitive online tutoring classroom with supplemental tutoring coverage, and Tutor.com Meeting Spaces, an education collaboration video conferencing platform built specifically to enhance learning in an online, group environment.

Today, we work with thousands of educational institutions and education-forward corporations, as well as the U.S. Department of Defense and Coast Guard Mutual Assistance to deliver more than one million tutoring, homework help, and test preparation sessions per year.

Our Tutors

Each year, Tutor.com receives more than 100,000 applications from prospective tutors. Every applicant is rigorously tested and vetted. Applicants must demonstrate their subject-matter expertise, effective tutoring methodology, mastery of our online environment, and understanding of Tutor.com’s pedagogy and policies. Those able to satisfactorily pass the arduous application process must also pass a thorough third-party background check. On average, only 1.5% of all applicants are qualified as Tutor.com tutors. Through our supportive mentoring program and multi-system quality control process, Tutor.com ensures our tutors provide highly effective, positively engaging instruction and support. Approximately 96% of post-session survey respondents say Tutor.com helps them complete their homework, improve their grades, and be more confident in their schoolwork.

COVID-19 Disruption Statistics

As schools across the country began eliminating in-person/on-campus instruction and students and parents began online learning and learn-from-home schooling, the need for online academic support greatly increased. As a result, Tutor.com put into place several measures to help students, parents, schools, and communities cope with this sudden and often perplexing disruption.

- Since March 1, 2020, more than 80 new institutions have begun a new partnership with Tutor.com in response to the COVID-19 disruption to traditional education.
- Since March 10, there has been a 12% increase YOY in tutoring sessions for students using our service through library partnerships.
- Since March 10, there has been a 29% increase year-over-year (YOY) for sessions for students using our services through our K-12 partnerships.
- Since March 10, there has been a 49% increase YOY in tutoring sessions for students using our service through college and university partnerships.
- For one month: During April, students connected with the company's tutors 155,268 times for instructional support. The average wait time for their sessions was just over a minute.
- For one week: Between May 1 and May 6, the company's tutors serviced 31,148 sessions, 69.1% more than the 18,364 serviced in first week of May in 2019.
- Tutor.com is projected to double its onboarding of new tutors for April 2020 vs. April 2019 to meet the continued and expected increase in demand

A Message from Tutor.com in Regard to COVID-19 Pandemic

We are here to help.

Let me begin by saying, I hope you and yours are safe and healthy. It is a disruptive time, a different world.

As schools and libraries across the country temporarily close, transition to online delivery, or develop "learn from home" lesson plans, many within our communities are facing anxiety about the changes and the unknown. This includes everyone from students to parents to staff and faculty. We get it and we want you to know, we got you.

As a student-focused, mission-driven organization, we are well experienced in adapting to emergent needs. We have established an emergency response team to expedite planning, implementation, and access to 1:1 on-demand online tutoring and homework help. Also, in light of the still-developing situation of the COVID-19 pandemic and federal, state and local recommendations for social distancing, we are offering flexible short-term programs

With 3,000 highly effective expert tutors, rest assured that we have the capacity to scale to meet your needs. The vast majority of our tutors, management and staff work from home on a regular basis and therefore, the support we provide to students and to our partners can and will continue without interruption while our staff is able to remain in the safe and technologically-suitable environment of their home.

Know that we are here for you to help in any way we can. If your college, university, K-12 school or library has closed its on-the-ground operations and are transitioning to online delivery of courses or services, or "Learn from Home" models for your students, please let us know what you need.

Warm Regards,

Sandi

Updated May 2020

Actual Post-Session Student Comments (unedited):

• “The tutor did a great job explaining and allowing me to think through without giving me the answer! I feel more confident that now I can solve the problems on my own.”

• “I really enjoyed this session. The tutor did not do the work for me. She allowed me to read aloud to catch simple mistakes and helped with commas. She was a life saver. I will recommend [Tutor.com] to everyone!”

• “I was confused at first because it’s math and it’s just something I don’t necessarily get. But Yesar made it easier to understand better.”

• “Amazing, as always, honestly, not even surprised at this point. It’s what I have come to expect from this site. Tutors have been amazing and seem to really care about your truly understand the material you are having trouble with. My tutor today took so much time to really help me with understanding all the graphs and figures that confused me and how they were connected to the written part of what we went over. It was great!”

• “Once again I am thankful for these tutors … what I don’t understand or wasn’t “taught” in class is all made clear now through here. Because I have to work for my answers they’re not just given to me.”

COVID-19 specific

• “this was so helpful-- we are having to do school at home due to quarantine guidelines and this was a lifesaver.”

• “This online tutoring is very helpful due to the impact that Covid19 is having on day to day life.”
• “With the COVID19 outbreak this was my only option and it was very helpful! So glad to have this help when it was desperately needed!”

• “Julian was AWESOME at helping me with my questions. I'll be using this service more often now that the coronavirus got us all messed up.”

• “Kritika A was an excellent tutor. She helped me complete a homework problem from a lesson that I had to learn over the computer because of the coronavirus. Comforting to know tutors are still available to help students learn and succeed in these trying times.”
Institutional Partners’ Comments:

- “Tutor.com has provided top-notch tutoring support for our students in a wide variety of subjects. These exceptional resources can be accessed 24 hours a day which helps us be more accessible to our students.”

- “I can highly recommend Tutor.com. They are wonderful to work with and provide an excellent service that helps students succeed in reaching their academic goals.”

- “With Tutor.com we can meet every student where he or she is individually. We can work around the kids’ real lives, providing access to tutoring 24/7 and help in the subjects they need the most.”

- “Tutor.com is highly data-centered. The reports they provide allow us to demonstrate who is using the service and for what. This level of accountability, coupled with the authentic feedback from the student surveys, helps us continue to grow our program.”

- “Tutor.com has gone above and beyond in their service as we transition to providing remote academic assistance services to our students because of the COVID outbreak. Within a week, our students had access to Tutor.com’s professional tutors.

- “Tutor.com is continually increasing and updating their services, motivated by a desire to serve the needs of the libraries and their users.”

- “Tutor.com does an excellent job of recruiting its tutors and providing them with continual evaluation. We trust the company to screen and hire appropriately.”

- “As someone who works with online resources and vendors on a daily basis, I am pleased with Tutor.com’s overall performance. The product has an intuitive and robust platform that our staff and students have been able to use successfully. Tutor.com is continually developing and improving their product interface.”

COVID-19-specific

- “Tutor.com ensured that all of our professional and student staff were fully trained in using the online platform and were quick to respond to issues. [Our] student staff was conducting remote tutoring sessions and Supplemental Instruction sessions within two weeks using [the Tutor.com Shared Staffing] platform.”

- “We are very appreciative of the quick response by Tutor.com in helping us transition to remote academic assistance, and their consistent support as we move forward.”

Tutor.com™ Trademark Use Guidelines

Updated May 2020

Tutor.com, Inc.’s (Tutor.com) trademarks and brands are Tutor.com. intellectual property. In order to preserve and protect our brand, we have created a set of requirements when using our trademarks, product names, logos and brand in all communication, documents, social media posts, online placement, and other electronic messages.

These guidelines apply to all employees of Tutor.com and The Princeton Review as well as our customers, partners, licensees, vendors, media, and other third parties. As a customer, partner, licensee, or vendor, your legal agreement with Tutor.com may specify other guidelines which supersede those stated here.

When using Tutor.com’s trademarks, product names, and brand, all statements and references must be truthful and not misleading. You must comply with these guidelines and you should not use the Tutor.com trademarks, product names, logos, or brand in any way that indicates they are your products or services or that Tutor.com endorses your products or services, unless given express written permission.

Adjective or Noun?

When referring to the company, Tutor.com may be used as a proper noun without the addition of the ™ symbol. The first instance of the company name should be “Tutor.com. (Tutor.com)”

Use: Tutor.com has served over 18 million 1-1 tutoring sessions.

Do not use: Tutor.com™ has served over 18 million 1-1 tutoring sessions.

When describing a service or product owned by Tutor.com, Tutor.com should be used as an adjective and be followed by the ™ symbol in the first or most prominent use of the service or product name.

Use: Thousands of libraries provide Tutor.com™ Learning Suite to their patrons.

Do not use: Thousands of libraries provide Tutor.com’s Learning Suite to their patrons.

The Do’s

• Always use the correct trademark symbol with the first or most prominent appearance of the Tutor.com logo or mark on any print material or online display.
• Always use the correct trademark symbol when describing a service or product owned by Tutor.com, e.g. Tutor.com™ Learning Suite
• Unless exempt as a customer or through a licensee or vendor agreement, always include the correct trademark notice acknowledging ownership by Tutor.com of the logo or mark.
• Always use the registered trademark symbol ® when using Live Homework Help® and attribute ownership to Tutor.com with the statement: “Live Homework Help is a registered trademark of Tutor.com, Inc.”
• If using Tutor.com logo or marks on social media posts, use the ™ or ® symbol or “tag” Tutor.com’s account in your post using the following handles:
