

Tutor.com University (TDCU)

What is TDCU?

TDCU is our self-paced online training platform designed for faculty, administrators, teachers, and staff. It provides a comprehensive overview of Tutor.com's services, how to use them effectively, and how to support student success. The platform also includes resources, best practices, and reporting insights to help manage and evaluate your program.

What is covered?

TDCU training courses include:

- Tutor.com's High-Dosage Tutoring and On-Demand Tutoring products
- How students access and use Tutor.com services
- Best practices for supporting student success
- Reporting and data available to administrators and faculty
- Downloadable resources and program support materials

Our self-paced courses are designed for flexibility, typically requiring 60 to 90 minutes to complete. The material is broken into short, manageable modules. Learners will have 30 days from their enrollment date to complete the training.

How do I enroll?

To enroll learners, simply provide the names and email addresses of participants to your Customer Success Manager. Our team will handle enrollment and send each participant an email with login instructions and access details.
