

Mandy Ginsberg, CEO Tutor.com

Mandy joined Tutor.com in 2013 to help reach millions of more students with one-on-one homework help and tutoring services. Married with two children, Mandy is experiencing the exhilaration and fear of having a teen daughter who is starting to think about college and a five-year old daughter just beginning elementary school. Mandy helps moms navigate day-to-day homework issues with the longer road to college with insights from Tutor.com's community of 3,000 tutors and 10 million tutoring sessions.

Professionally, Mandy is best known for successfully building the largest online dating site, Match.com. At Match.com, she created the “Real First Dates” ad campaign and at Chemistry.com she led the award-winning “Come as you Are” campaign. Mandy oversaw all aspects of Match.com’s U.S. business—building strategic relationships and bringing in new customers by creating innovative product features.

Mandy was a competitive soccer player at the University of California at Berkley where she earned her Bachelor’s degree and she has an MBA from The Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania. She is on the Board of Care.com.
