APA References

Guidelines from the APA Handbook (7th edition): <https://apastyle.apa.org/>

Basics of the References Page

- The References page should be its own page at the end of the paper.
- “References” (without the quotation marks) should be centered and bolded at the top of the page.
- The list of references should be double spaced.
- Use a hanging indentation for each source. This means begin each entry with the left margin, but each subsequent line is indented by half an inch. See here for instructions on formatting hanging indents in Microsoft Word: <https://support.microsoft.com/en-us/office/create-or-remove-a-hanging-indent-11428fed-a282-4dd6-adf2-98bb8282c1ce>
- Alphabetize by the first term in each entry. (This is generally the author’s last name, but it could be the title of the work if there is no author)
- When referring to the titles of books, chapters, articles, reports, webpages, or other sources, capitalize only the first letter of the first word, proper nouns, and the first word after a colon. This is called sentence case, and it works just like it sounds: Capitalize sentence case titles like you would capitalize them if you were just writing a regular sentence in a paragraph instead of a title.
