COLOR PALETTE

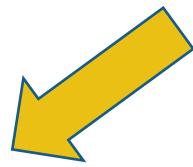

The screenshot shows the tutor.com workspace interface. On the left is a vertical toolbar with icons for drawing tools like pencil, eraser, and shapes. The main workspace is a large white area. A yellow arrow points to a color palette tool that is currently open. The palette features a large color gradient bar on the left, a vertical color selection tool with a pencil icon, and a row of six color swatches: black, red, green, blue, and magenta. Below the swatches are three black squares and a small blue circle. The toolbar on the left also includes icons for a palette, list, image, document, grid, and a drawing tool.

GRAPHICS, FORMULAS, AND SYMBOLS

The screenshot displays the Tutor.com interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the Tutor.com logo and menu items: Workspace, Actions, Mute, Settings, and Tour. On the left side, a vertical toolbar contains various drawing and editing tools. A yellow arrow points to a dropdown menu that is open, showing four options: Import, Formulas, Shapes, and Symbols. On the right side, there is a sidebar with three sections: Audio, Participants (1), and Chat. The Audio section shows two participants: Sam (represented by a blue circle with the letter 'S') and John (represented by a photo of a man). The Participants section lists 'You' and 'John'. The Chat section is currently empty. At the bottom of the sidebar, there is a text input field with formatting options (B, I, U, link icon) and a placeholder text: 'Type your text or URL here'.

CUT/COPY/PASTE/UNDO/REDO

ACTIONS MENU

The screenshot displays the Tutor.com interface during a session. On the left, the 'tutor.com' logo is visible above a 'Workspace' dropdown menu. Below this, a list of math topics is shown: PEMDAS, Parenthesis, Exponents, Multiplication, Division, Addition, and Subtraction. A vertical toolbar contains icons for drawing tools like a pencil, eraser, and highlighter. The main workspace area contains a math problem: 'If $5 - 3(x - 4) = 8$, then'. Below the problem are five multiple-choice options: A) 3, B) $\frac{1}{3}$, C) $-\frac{7}{3}$, D) -3, and E) -5. The 'Actions' menu is open, showing options such as 'Raise Hand', 'Thumbs Up', 'Thumbs Down', 'Happy', 'OK', 'Confused', 'Away', and 'Say "Great Job!"'. The background workspace shows handwritten blue ink work for solving the equation: $(x-4) = 8$, $(x-4) = 3$, $x-4 = -1$, and $x = 3$. On the right side, the 'Audio' section shows a video feed of a man named John. Below it, the 'Participants (2)' list includes 'You' and 'John'. The chat window shows a conversation where John offers help and Maggie asks to turn up her speakers. At the bottom, there are text formatting options (B, I, U) and a text input field.

I'll work it out on the board.
00:18:26

Perfect! When x is 3, y is 10.
00:19:17

Now, since this is a linear equation, it will create a line, so you only need to have two points in order to graph it.
00:19:58

Please put those two ordered pairs on the graph.

Safe & Secure Assurance

Tutor.com's top priority is to provide a safe and secure learning environment for students. Our learning solutions are designed for students to get help anonymously from a professional tutor online. No personal information is shared between the tutor and student, and sessions are reviewed to ensure the highest standards of expertise, safety and quality.

Professional, Expert Tutors

We have thousands of tutors, all of whom are carefully screened experts and include certified teachers, college professors, graduate students, select undergraduates from accredited universities and other professionals. The majority are based in the U.S. and Canada.

Every Tutor is Screened, Certified and Background Checked

All of our tutors must complete a rigorous application process and pass an extensive background check to become a certified Tutor.com tutor.

Comprehensive Application. All tutors must demonstrate their tutoring skills and subject expertise during the application process.

Background Checks. Every tutor must complete a third-party background check, which includes a criminal background check and verification of their education.

Practice Each tutor leads mock tutoring sessions to become an expert in our online classroom.

Mentoring Ongoing mentoring and professional development allows tutors to continually develop their skills.

Safe, Quality Sessions

Tutor and student work in a secure online classroom, and no personal information is exchanged between tutors and students. Sessions are recorded and reviewed for quality control.

Our matching system pairs an incoming student to the next available tutor based on the student's grade level and subject they need help with.

No personal information is shared. Students only see a tutor's first name and last initial. Students are anonymous to the tutor.

Tutors are strictly prohibited from discussing anything personal with students and from exchanging any personally identifiable information.

All sessions are recorded, including all typing, whiteboard work, websites researched and files shared between tutor and student.

Sessions are scanned for inappropriate words and phrases, and reviewed by Tutor.com staff if flagged by the system.

MEET PATTY PARENT

Patty Parent wants to be involved in her child's education. She has setup homework schedules and tries to keep track of what her son is learning in class each week. She even requested a parent/teacher meeting when Pete seemed to be struggling. Flashcards, they said. Math cubes, they said. Common Core for conceptual learning, they said.

UGH! Patty is frustrated and she's worried her frustrations will only discourage Pete and make learning a chore. She needs someone to walk her through the problems so she can help Pete the right way.

Patty can connect with our elementary-level tutors and identify as a parent needing help to explain a concept. Our tutors will help her better understand the concepts and techniques.

MEET MARIA MATEMATICAS

Maria is a late elementary school student whose primary language is Spanish. She speaks some English and has to complete her homework in English. Her parents only speak Spanish.

She is a little behind in math because her new school is ahead of what she's learned. Math frustrates her the most!

Maria can connect with our bilingual Spanish-speaking tutors for math support and also with our ESL tutors to improve her English and grow her vocabulary.

MEET GREG GO GETTER

Greg is a super prepared student who always tries to stay ahead of the game. He likes to be prepared, review, and hopes that these skills will pay off in the long run.

Greg needs reassurance that he's "got this" and also some time management tools to manage everything he has put on his plate.

When you visit Greg's class or see him stressing in the library, show him the longer promotional video. Encourage him to try the drop-off math review for his 8th grade algebra and to watch the video lessons when he needs a reminder. As always, make sure Greg knows our tutors are encouraging and educational.

MEET RENA RIGOR

Rena wants to fill her high school transcripts with rigor courses to help push her to the top of the college admissions' offices selection list. She'll fill her schedule with AP courses, for some of which she might not have had the best preparation.

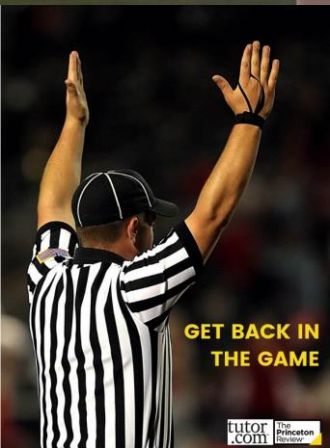

AP and other rigor courses look appealing because they can result in college credit, higher GPA due to weighting and scholarships. For many students, though, they are an eye opener.

Make sure the AP teachers in your district high school are aware of Tutor.com , including our AP-level tutoring in 14 subjects as well as our AP video lessons. "Feeling the Pressure of Test Prep" posters are a great addition to their classrooms.

MEET AL ATHLETE

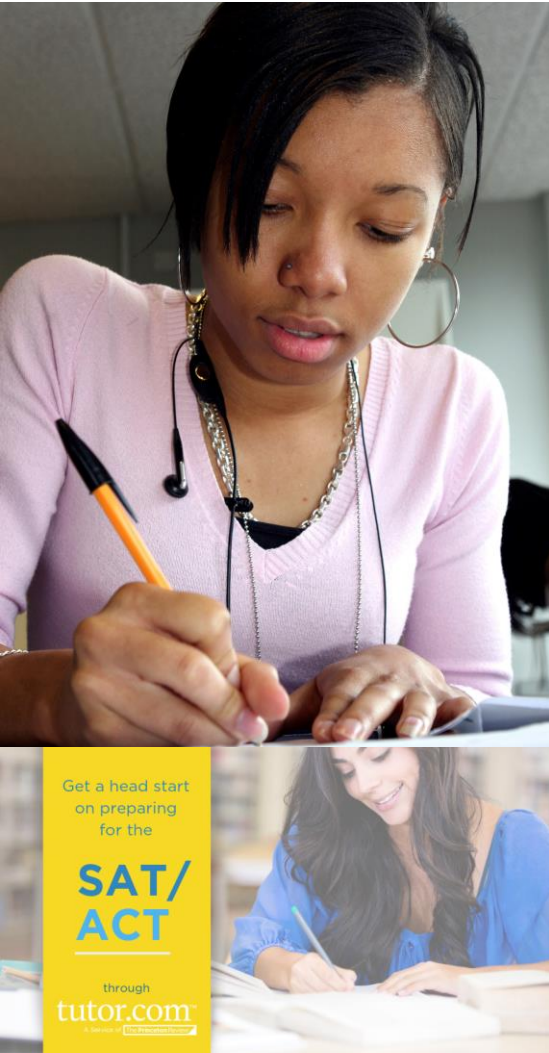

Up by 6:00 a.m. School from 7:30 – 2:30. Straight to practice by 2:45 and not home until 6:00 p.m. Brother-babysitting duty until 8:00. Algebra worksheet, English essay, biology lab report, Spanish test and history chapter drag on until 11:00 p.m.

Al does it all, but just as he needs coaching on the field, he also needs support in his studies and a little help managing his time.

Drop-off reviews, short video lessons and late night tutoring availability can help Al make his study time more efficient AND effective. Be sure to let coaches know about Tutor.com, and not just at the school. Look for other athletic organizations like Pop Warner or Little League, gymnastics & cheerleading gyms, swim clubs and more.

MEET COL LEDGE

Col needs to ace the ACT! She may even take the SAT to open up further merit scholarship opportunities. Test prep books are expensive and the ones in the library are often unavailable or outdated.

In addition to test prep, Col could use some advice on the Common App and financial aid. The path to college seems to be paved with potholes that make for a bumpy ride.

You can help Col, and others just like her, by introducing our SAT/ACT Essentials which includes not only test prep, but expert advice from The Princeton Review College Counselors. Hang fliers near your test prep books or put bookmarks in the college advice books in your stacks. Host an in-library practice test and use Essentials as your medium.

MEET JAIME JOB SEARCHER

Jaime needs a job. She's a junior and she doesn't see college in her path after high school. Instead, she'd like to pursue a service job where she can rise in the ranks to manage a store. She really enjoyed her seasonal cashier job at the toy store, but alas, that has ended.

Jaime isn't sure how to find new job opportunities. Her mom says go around the mall and ask for applications, but every store tells her to apply online and upload a résumé. What in the world is a high school kid supposed to put on a résumé and how can she find opportunities without having to go to every single companies' website?

Jaime needs to know about Tutor.com's Job Search Assistance. Our audio feature is perfect for practicing interviews. Let them know about it. Have our Career Brochures at your teen desk and put a link on your website.
