

Kendall Hunt Announces Partnership with MyLivePD™ Online Coaching Service to Provide Free Professional Development Support to Educators

Dubuque, IA - Kendall Hunt Publishing Company has announced the development of a new professional development partnership designed to enhance its already-strong roster of professional development programs and services. The company has entered into a partnership with MyLivePD™ Online Coaching Service to provide a one-to-one, on-demand learning solution for educators who use Kendall Hunt's Math Innovations and Discovering Mathematics curriculum for grades 6-12.

MyLivePD Online Coaching is a service from Tutor.com that will deliver support for Kendall Hunt's middle school and high school math programs by connecting them to experienced instructional math coaches online for timely, relevant and practical professional development support that can be immediately implemented in their classrooms to positively impact student achievement. The MyLivePD coaches will address a variety of topics for educators, including:

- Common Core initiatives
- Differentiated learning
- Classroom management
- Lesson planning
- Student engagement
- Student assessments

"Kendall Hunt is deeply committed to providing educators with high-quality professional development programs that help educators ensure success not only in their classrooms, but throughout their professional careers," said Laura Quade Lottes, Kendall Hunt's senior professional development manager. "Through our new partnership with MyLivePD Online Coaching, we can now provide complimentary, flexible professional development training to new users of our middle and high school mathematics curriculum. This new format of delivering professional development is a powerful addition to our on-site training and coaching services and our live, online eWorkshops."

"Live, online coaching is becoming an important part of overall professional development for educators," said George Cigale, founder and CEO of Tutor.com Inc. and MyLivePD Online Coaching Service. "Our partnership with Kendall Hunt will give middle and high school math teachers the support they need throughout the school year to make an immediate impact in their classrooms and most importantly on student achievement."
